

Scott Banks Big Night Out 2009

Contributed by Admin
Friday, 22 May 2009

Scott Banks Big Night Out 2009

Over 10 years the Big Night Out in Leeds has become the MUST BE AT event of the year. No other event in the UK has a BNO like this one and over the years many fantastic players and fun loving people have visited the BNO with almost all return visitors year on year. Scott would be so proud of his event and a chance for bowlers and supporters to let their hair down for once and have a great time. As well as bowling, Scott's great passion was to have fun and this event delivers in everyway.

The event will be at Superna in the centre of Leeds

<http://www.supernaleeds.co.uk/functions.php>

Click here to view the venue through Google StreetView

The live band this year will be Rebel Yell. Many of you will already have heard of the band after they donated tracks to the PTBC Masters and have been used on a few Talktenpin.net videos. The band will be playing two sets during the evening, first one will be their own music some of which can be heard here <http://www.myspace.com/rockrebelyell>

The second set will be covers and oldies

The band are a very energetic four piece and have played with some of the greats of music including the one and only Paul McCartney. They also have a large and growing following having played live all over the UK. The boys have been playing together since they were only 10 years old and were once the youngest rock and roll band in the world under the name The Rockabeats and played with of all people Bill Haley's Comets. Three brothers and best mate make up this awesome band and you soon realise just how good they are when they can actually play their instruments, Massive guitar riffs and a drummer who plays standing up, You wont forget this band in a hurry as they play catchy rock.

Rebel yell will rock the place and you will all cry More More More. Check them out on their website

http://www.myspace.com/roc_krebelyell

Tickets will be available at the event on Saturday and Sunday